Join the Greentown Labs' Australian Startup Exchange

Dates: Sept. 15–19, 2025 | Location: Houston, TX, USA

📢 APPLY HERE by July 20, 2025 at midnight (AWST)

Applications are now open! Join our cohort of Australian climatetech & energy startups to explore the Houston market, connect with industry leaders, and engage in peer-to-peer learning with U.S. startups.

WHAT TO EXPECT

Three startups will be selected to join Greentown Labs at Houston Energy + Climate Startup Week in September for high-impact programming, tailored to climatetech startups looking to scale, collaborate, and grow across global markets.

Uniquely positioned as one of the world's leading energy hubs, Houston stands out as a collaborative space where academia, entrepreneurs, and industry leaders actively pursue innovative solutions to accelerate the adoption of next generation energy technologies.

You'll find professionals from major energy corporations working alongside climatetech innovators, united in their mission to meet the rising energy demands of a growing global population. Their goal: to develop scalable, high-impact solutions that serve present and future generations. No matter what your climatetech or energy solution may be, Houston offers an opportunity to connect with organisations ready to fund pilot projects, support customer discovery, and engage in joint development.

ABOUT HOUSTON ENERGY + CLIMATE STARTUP WEEK

Houston Energy + Climate Startup Week showcases how Houston is developing and scaling real solutions for the dual challenge of meeting growing global energy demand while reducing carbon emissions. The inaugural year in 2024 saw more than 2,000 attendees from leading energy and climate venture capital investors, industry leaders, and startups from around the world.

Opportunities for the Startup Ecosystem Exchange Include:

- Pitch practice sessions with Greentown Lab's experts in residence and network of 75+ Corporate Partners and 1,400+ Investors.
- Curated meet-and-greets and introductions connecting local and visiting startups with Houston's innovation and industry leaders.
- Networking events and collaborative programming with major energy operators, corporate partners, investors, and ecosystem leaders.
- Experience Houston's culture and innovation through local activities.

ABOUT GREENTOWN LABS + WOODSIDE ENERGY

Greentown Labs is the largest climatetech and energy incubator in the world, supporting 200+ startups across the US through community, resources, and collaboration. This opportunity is made possible through the support of Woodside Energy, a global energy company providing reliable and affordable energy to help people lead better lives. This exchange fosters international startup engagement and innovation to drive transformative climatetech and energy solutions.
